Farewell for now!

The school year's end is drawing near,
A time to pause and hold dear,
The moments shared, the laughter and cheer,
The lessons learned, year after year.
We've journeyed through each ebb and flow,
With growth and triumphs, highs and lows.
In classrooms bright and hallways wide,
We've come together, side by side.
From early dawns to sunsets gold,
Each day a story to be told,
With every challenge, every test,
We've given our very best.
Now summer's breeze will soon embrace,
A well-earned rest, a slower pace.
But as we part, let's not forget,
The bonds we've formed and dreams we've set.
Here's to the friends, the fun, the strife,
To cherished days and future life.
As we move forward, let's hold tight,
To memories made and dreams in sight.
Farewell for now, but not goodbye,
Our hearts will keep the memories nigh.
As seasons change and time moves on,
The echoes of this year live on.

Have a wonderful & Blessed Holiday Season!
See you next year!
